History

"He was given authority, glory and sovereign power; all nations and peoples of every language worshiped him. His dominion is an everlasting dominion that will not pass away, and his kingdom is one that will never be destroyed."

Daniel 7:14

You know what I like about the word history? I like the fact that it has the word "story" in it. History is really about stories, and how the past connects to the present and the future. Daniel 7 is a prime of example of history leading and connecting us to the future. Daniel had a vision, which was a glimpse into the future and it culminates with verse 14. We who follow Jesus are in the process of leaving a legacy, when the history of our lives are told to future generations, may it be told that we stewarded our opportunities to point others to Jesus, that they may be part of "the peoples of every language worshipping him!" Today, let's resolve to live our lives in such a manner that they point others to Him and that their stories will intersect with His!
